Product innovations

Anodized Force

Thanks to electrolyte, anodizing provides an additional barrier against time. The durability depends on the type of treatment chosen, as well as the thickness of the protective layer. The treatment used produces a decorative satin finish, a matte or glossy finish.

Matte Black

Our unique matt black profile shower enclosure range does not only have a nice design, but also a high "velvet" quality finishing. When you touch faucets or dhowers, it feels like touching a peach skin : it won't be peeled neither affected over time.
